

FR Cotton Coverall • HRC 2

Economical FR Protection That's Made to Last!

The dangers of flash fire and/or explosion are an every day worry for industrial workers. If workers are equipped with flame-resistant protective clothing injuries can be avoided.

Fyrban's flame resistant coveralls manufactured with FR Cotton have the built in toughness that you expect from a leader in the flame resistant market. Whether you are clothing pipeline workers or linemen, these coveralls offer amazing protection and value.

From our reinforced stitching to our covered snaps, Fyrban's FR Cotton coveralls have details that you won't find from any competitor. Since the material is FR Cotton, it is less costly than other fabrics, providing an affordable solution. The reflective trim adds an additional safety factor for low visibility or night work environments.

No one can predict when an emergency will occur. Be prepared for anything with inexpensive and reliable protection. Fyrban's coveralls made from FR Cotton can ease your concerns about the safety of your employees without causing concerns about the cost.
